NHS Foundation Trust

Our Journey to Change Delivery plan

2023/24

Who we are and who we care for

Tees, Esk and Wear Valleys NHS Foundation Trust (TEWV) was formed in April 2006 and was authorised as a foundation trust on 1 July 2008. We provide mental health and learning disability services for the people of County Durham and Darlington, Teesside, North Yorkshire, York and Selby.

From education and prevention to crisis and specialist care — our talented and compassionate teams work in partnership with our patients, communities and partners to help the people of our region feel safe, understood, believed in and cared for.

We're committed to new thinking that improves the wellbeing of our region, and connecting with our communities and partners to deliver mental health care.

We also provide mental health care within prisons, and an immigration removal centre, located in the North East, East Yorkshire, Cumbria and parts of Lancashire.

Almost 7,500 staff work across more than 90 sites, including Foss Park, a state of the art 72-bed hospital and research space in York which opened in 2020.

We deliver our services through two Care Groups, which are supported by corporate services. These care groups are:

- Durham, Tees Valley and Forensics
- North Yorkshire, York and Selby

Most importantly, everything we do is guided by Our Journey to Change and our values.

Our Journey to Change sets out where we want to be and how we'll get there. It includes our goals that we co-created with patients, carers, colleagues and partners. We are working hard to embed our values and make sure everyone, in every role across our Trust, demonstrates respects and compassion and takes responsibility for the care we give.

journey to change

Launched in August 2020, Our Big Conversation was the biggest listening exercise in the history of the Trust. Over 2,100 people shared 35,800 ideas, comments and votes, exploring what could be possible if we got everything right and what we must do to achieve this.

We heard that some people had a good experience with the Trust but this wasn't consistent, and we heard that there is a lot we need to work on.

From the rich conversations and feedback, we received from Our Big Conversation, we developed big ideas for change and a new strategic direction called Our Journey to Change.

It sets out why we do what we do, the kind of organisation we want to be and how we will get there by delivering our three goals and living our new values of respect, compassion and responsibility all the time.

The big goals we have committed to deliver over the next five years are:

- to co-create a great experience for patients, carers and their families
- to co-create a great experience for our colleagues
- to be a great partner

Our Journey to Change will be at the forefront of everything we do, and all our decision making and 'supporting journeys' will be aligned to it.

We will have five underpinning journeys which are:

- clinical
- quality and safety
- people
- co-creation
- empowering infrastructure

National and Integrated Care Systems' priorities

The NHS has a long-term plan for mental health which identifies several priorities for NHS commissioners and providers, including:

- improving access to existing services such as talking therapies, crisis services and community mental health services for both adults and children
- setting up and expanding new services such as perinatal, individual placement and support into work for people with severe mental health conditions
- transformation of community mental health services through place-based partnerships

The national priorities for learning disability services (known as building the right support) are to reduce the inappropriate use of hospitals and to reduce over-medication. Autism priorities nationally include increasing NHS staff awareness of the adjustments that would help autistic people to access health care effectively. A revised Mental Health Bill is moving through its parliamentary stages and if approved, will eliminate the use of detentions for autistic people or a learning disability, but who are not mentally unwell.

The North East North Cumbria ICS and Humber North Yorkshire ICS have both developed integrated care strategies and 'joint forward plans'. HNY also approved a mental health, learning disability and autism strategy in 2021. These set out goals such as increasing life expectancy, improving health service quality and reducing health inequalities. For mental health and learning disabilities, they reference principles such as the importance of preventing the determinants of ill-health, early intervention, trauma informed care and quality improvement. Workforce development and utilising community assets, including the voluntary sector are also common features.

This plan supports and is informed by national and ICS priorities.

Content of this document:

This Our Journey to Change (OJTC) delivery plan sets out:

- The role and importance of our clinical, quality, co-creation, workforce and infrastructure journeys to change
- Our delivery priorities for 2023/24, including completion dates for key pieces of work and the impact we expect them to have
- The standards we have agreed with our commissioners and regulators, that we will deliver during 2023/24
- Our financial and workforce plans for the year ahead

Our clinical, quality, co-creation, workforce and infrastructure journeys

Each of our five journeys sets out our ambitions – i.e., what is the clinical, quality, cocreation, workforce and infrastructure destination that we are journeying to. They also set out some of the principles that will guide our journey.

There are different ways in which we will make the journey from where we are now, to where we want to be – including:

- 1) changes in everyday working practices and behaviours, which over time become cultural change
- 2) incremental changes to our ‘business as usual’, often achieved by teams formally or informally using the ‘Plan Do Study Act’ (PDSA) cycles, which will be prompted by data and risks discussed through the governance of our Trust
- 3) developing projects and initiatives to create new services or to change existing services. Some of these are funded by new commissioning investment, but others use the resource already available to the Trust. Where plans involve efficiency savings or significant changes to services, they must pass a quality impact assessment conducted by our medical, nursing and therapies directors before implementation
- 4) convincing our system partners to do things differently, in line with the ambitions of our journeys

In the past, the Trust’s business plans have focused on the projects and initiatives developed by the Trust (category 3), but this OJTC delivery plan should reflect the wider range of things we are doing which will advance Our Journey to Change during 2023/24. All of these four aspects of making our journeys must be successful if we are going to successfully arrive at the destination of our journey to change.

Our ‘advancing’ Board is where we manage the most urgent and complex cross-cutting transformation projects. These receive additional support from the Trust’s change and project management experts. In 23/24 we have purposefully put all of our immediate quality journey areas of focus under this Board along with work to help us reduce pressures on our mental health assessment and treatment and PICU inpatient beds.

Personalising care planning also features, because supporting and enabling patients to develop their own care plans, so that care is tailored to their personal needs and recovery goals is the way to make sure that co-creation is a reality for every person using TEWV’s services.

2023/24 - Plan on a Page

These will be underpinned by:

-  Service user, carer, staff & partner engagement to inform plans & gather intelligence on impact
-  Detailed plans (why, how, when, who)
-  Measuring impact

Our three big goals

1. Cocreate a great experience for our patients, carers & families

2. Cocreate a great experience for our colleagues

3. Be a great partner
